

NEWARK GETS NEW PIPELINE FOR FIRE PROTECTION

A new water main connecting the Newark system with the Hetch-Hetchy pipeline was opened this week by the Alameda County Water District, to assure a more adequate supply of water for fire protection.

The new 1200 feet of pipeline carries a pressure of 150 pounds and connects into the Newark system at the corner of Sycamore and Thornton.

STOVE PLANT HELPS

The officers of the water district this week expressed their thanks to the James Graham Manufacturing Company for their aid and cooperation in the construction of the line. W. D. Patterson, president of the water district, said that the district installed 600 feet of the line and the Graham Company the additional 600 feet in order to have the line pass its plant and thus assure greater fire protection.

Fire Chief Joseph Pashote said this week that it will now be unnecessary to use the pressure booster pump on the two hydrants along Sycamore Street, the 150-pound pressure in the line being adequate.

H. F. Harrold, engineer for the water district, reported that a pressure reducing valve has been installed at the junction of the new high-pressure line and the Newark system but did not know the setting at which the valve would open to supplement the well water being pumped into the town.

MAY SHIFT TO HETCH-HETCHY

Patterson was quick to point out that the new line was for fire protection exclusively and added that if the residents of the community want Hetch-Hetchy water they may have it by the majority of the water users voting the change.

Chief Pashote, as part of the regular fire drill Monday evening, took readings of the pressure and flow at various hydrants and reported the flow per minute has increased 180 gallons, from 380 to 560 gallons.

BAPTIST SERVICES WILL CONTINUE

A total of 65 people gathered Sunday afternoon to fill the newly rented church quarters of the First Baptist Church at 151 I Street, Niles. Services will continue this coming Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. and every Sunday thereafter, according to an announcement by Mr. William F. Hunter, pastor of the group. Mr. Hunter reported that many of those in attendance last Sunday were visitors from the 23rd Avenue Baptist Church of Oakland. This church, along with the Conservative Baptist Association, is starting the new work in Niles.

Pastor Hunter will speak Sunday afternoon on the subject "The Answer to a Troubled Heart." Truett Kolb will be at the piano. Robert F. Hakes will direct the singing.

ALWAYS WILLING TO TAKE A CHANCE

Washington Township is not without its share of residents who get some enjoyment out of the element of chance.

This fact was revealed last Thursday and Friday when attorneys in a case charging 13 Alvarado men with violation of the gambling laws, spent the full two days set aside for the two separate trials qualifying 12 jurors for the first trial.

A stock question asked by the defense attorney was, "Do you, or have you ever gambled?"

One man was asked, "Do you ever play poker?"

"Yes," replied the prospective juror.

"What kind," asked the attorney.

"Oh, just the house-warming type," came back the answer.

One man, after stating he was a farmer, answered the question by stating, "Sure, I gamble—every year on my apricots."

One woman, asked if she thought the anti-gambling laws of the state should be upheld and enforced, startled the spectators with her reply, "I do not."

LEATHER-CRAFT CLASS

The class is open to the public.

JURY CONVICTS SIX ON GAMBLING LAW VIOLATIONS

A jury trial of record-breaking duration ended Wednesday evening in Centerville Justice Court with the jury returning verdicts of guilty against six defendants charged with violation of the gambling laws.

The defendants, arrested by sheriff's deputies in an August 19 raid on the Lomita Club, Alvarado, were Felix Diangson, Leo Yip, Jung Wong, Woo Yin Don, Jow Wong and Ng Wing Him.

DELIBERATE TWO HOURS

The trial opened last Thursday with defense attorneys Lester Foley of Hayward and R. C. Ramsey of San Francisco taking two full days to qualify the 12 jurors.

Presentation of testimony began Monday morning and the case was turned over to the jury of seven women and five men at approximately 3:30 p.m. Wednesday. The jury deliberated less than two hours in reaching a decision of guilty against all defendants.

The jury included: Vernon Ellsworth; foreman; Edna Tyson, Manuel DeSalles, Delphine Soito, Alice V. Shepard, Leontine Costa, Dorothy Hill, Estelle Hirsch, Dora Weber, Louis Amaral, Herman Bettencourt and George Mathiesen.

MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL

Upon hearing the verdict of "guilty," the defense attorneys immediately filed a motion for a new trial.

Judge Allen G. Norris set the hearing for the motion for a new trial for today at 2:30 p.m., and if the motion is denied, the men will be sentenced at that time.

Maximum penalty for each man is $500 fine or six months, or both. Minimum fine set forth by law is $100.

Seven other men, arrested the same night in a raid on the New Manila Club, will be tried on an identical charge in the Centerville court on October 27. Foley will also represent these defendants and has requested a trial by jury. The defendants are Dalmacio Carillo, Marty Yip, Benny Fong, Eugene Potencion, Ernest Sun, Timmy Yip and Frank Macahillas.

ATTEND 4-H CLUB CONFERENCE

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Williams and sons, Gary and Bruce, of Warm Springs, represented this area at the week-end conference of 4-H Club leaders held at Los Posadas 4-H Club camp. The conference was attended by leaders from six counties who met to discuss long-range programs.

DECOTO TEACHER ANNOUNCES RETIREMENT

HAS TAUGHT SCHOOL HERE FOR 23 YEARS

Mrs. Ruby L. Rogers, teacher at the Decoto Elementary School for 23 years, announced this week that she is retiring from the profession.

The announcement comes as an unwelcome surprise to her co-workers and students alike, for Mrs. Rogers was highly regarded in educational circles as one of the township's most able teachers. She had taught the second grade.

Now a resident of Newark, she started teaching 33 years ago. She taught two years in the famous

ALVARADO DEATH TERMED SUICIDE

The death of Anthony Luchetti, 64, a rancher near Alvarado for the past three years, has been termed a suicide by sheriff's deputies.

Luchetti's body was found Tuesday morning in a shed at his home one mile south of Alvarado on the Centerville-Alvarado highway. Sheriff's deputies stated that he had fashioned a noose of twine with which he had fired a shotgun with his toe, the blast hitting him in the face. He left no notes.

His wife, Mrs. Lucetta Luchetti, 62, told officers that she had last seen her husband the previous day when he had left the house to keep a dental appointment.

The body was taken to the Sorensen Mortuary in Hayward for last rites.

CHAMBER SUGGESTS TOWNSHIP SURVEY

Compiling of information which would be useful to subdividers, industrialists and business men interested in locating in Washington Township was considered at Tuesday's regular weekly meeting of the Niles Chamber of Commerce at the International Kitchen.

The subject was brought up by E. C. Parks, Niles real estate broker, who stated that lack of complete data is a handicap in promoting the growth of the township.

President John Brahmst suggested that action on the project be delayed until after the formation of the proposed Washington Township Chamber of Commerce.

Thanks of the Niles Chamber of Commerce was given to Vernon Ellsworth, Dr. T. C. Wilson and A. M. Alves, who made up the committee in charge of last Thursday evening's annual barbecue given by the Chamber for Niles volunteer firemen and fire commissioners.

FOLSOM DAM BILL PASSES SENATE; WOULD AID AREA

Long-range prospects for new water supplies for Southern Alameda County brightened this week with the passage by the U. S. Senate Wednesday of a bill authorizing the $111,000,000 American River Basin development, including the Folsom Dam.

The bill would expand plans for Folsom Dam, originally authorized as a flood control project with capacity of 350,000 acre feet, to a storage structure with capacity of 1,000,000 acre feet.

The bill also includes funds for a survey by the Bureau of Reclamation to determine feasibility of a pipe line from the Delta Mendota Canal at Tracy to bring Folsom Dam water to Southern Alameda, Contra Costa and San Benito counties.

Two routes have been suggested by engineers.

One would go through Pacheco Pass at Gilroy.

The other would tunnel through the Altamont hills to the Livermore Valley.

From there one canal would go through the San Ramon Valley and Walnut Creek to Pinole and Richmond with industrial water.

Others would carry water for irrigation through the Livermore Valley to Niles, and on through Southern Alameda County toward San Jose.

COMMUNITY CHEST DRIVE TO OPEN HERE ON MONDAY

The Washington Township Community Chest campaign, with its theme of "Everybody Benefits . . . Everybody Gives" opens here Monday in a whirl-wind drive in which the volunteer workers intend to attain their $6040 goal in two weeks.

With the acceptance of William Beck, Newark, and Mrs. Mildred Logan, Alviso District, to head the drive in their respective communities, all community chairmen are now ready for the opening of the campaign.

CHAIRMEN READY

Heading the drive in other communities are: Walter Oakie, Alvarado; L. W. Musick, Decoto; Jack Kuegeman, Irvington; Lois Bottenberg, Mission San Jose; Tom Maloney, Centerville; John Sousa, Warm Springs; and Mrs. Gertrude Enos, Niles.

Mrs. Ann Mayock, Irvington, publicity and public relations director for the drive, said this week that all the community chairmen have completed their staff of volunteer solicitors, materials have been distributed and the drive will get underway on schedule.

"Seventy-five per cent of the money raised will be given to young people's groups and used here in Washington Township," Mrs. Mayock said yesterday.

BUDGET LISTED

She listed the organizations that will benefit from the campaign and the portion of the budget assigned them as follows:

Girl Scouts, $1,990
Boy Scouts, $1,700
Mission San Jose Youth Center, $100

Irvington Youth Center, $200
Newark Youth Center, $200
U. S. O., $250

Salvation Army, $1,000

Travelers Aid, $100

Judge Allen G. Norris, Centerville, again heads the Advance Gifts committee.

Warren Gravestock, president of the Red Feather organization here, this week complimented Mrs. Stella Benbow, campaign chairman, on her splendid pre-campaign task of organizing the staff of workers.

CONTROVERSY OVER PARKING SYSTEM

The Irvington Chamber of Commerce, after recently passing a motion calling for parallel parking throughout the community, at Tuesday's meeting asked that the motion be withdrawn and further study of the parking problem be made before any definite action be taken.

After voting last week favoring the change in parking, the Chamber contacted Wallace Boggs, county surveyor, and received his assurance that the change would be made in the near future.

At this week's meeting merchants protested the change, pointing out that it would greatly reduce the number of automobiles that could be parked in the business district. They recommended instead that angle parking lanes be painted to eliminate the present "hodge-podge" system.

President Rowan Henry appointed a committee composed of Frank Mayer, Tony Callahan and Monford Krueger to make a more complete study.

Ten Plead Guilty to Benefit Check Fraud; Thirty-Five Other Cases Are Continued

Ten of the 45 defendants charged with violations of the California Unemployment Insurance Act entered pleas of guilty in the court of Judge Jacob Harder, Hayward, on Wednesday, one pled not guilty, and the remainder were granted extensions of time before entering their pleas.

Thirty-nine of the 45 defendants are, or were formerly, employees of the Pacific States Steel Mill at Niles. They are charged with fraudulently receiving unemployment compensation checks while they were employed.

SENTENCES TODAY

The ten men who entered pleas of guilty and will be sentenced at 10 a.m. today (Friday) by Judge Harder are: Dewey F. Pruitt, 1537 Washington Street, Hayward; Gilbert C. Galarsa, San Lorenzo; Tony E. Silva, Hayward; David Muela, 412 Eleventh Street, Decoto; Theodore E. Briones, Sycamore Street, Niles; Lawrence Rodrick, 414 Tenth Street, Decoto; John F. Sullivan, 825 Tenth Street, Decoto; Calisto Xavier, 717 First Street, Niles; Domingo C. Torres and Manuel R. Rorro, 101 Fifth Street, Decoto.

The one plea of not guilty at Wednesday's hearing was made by Domingo Carabello, Hayward.

Hearings of the other defendants have been set over to October 10 and 19.

HIRE OAKLAND ATTORNEY

The ten men who entered pleas of guilty were transferred to the county jail pending the sentencing today. Maximum penalty for each violation is $500 or six months in jail, or both. Some defendants have as many as ten separate violations charged against them.

More than half of the 45 defendants will be represented by Edward R. Plotner, Oakland attorney. Plotner was in Decoto Tuesday evening, where he held a meeting with the men he represents. He indicated that those he represents will plead not guilty and that jury trials for each defendant will be asked.

OLDEST TOWNSHIP RESIDENT DIES AT AGE OF 110

Geronimo Duran, Washington Township's oldest resident, who would have been 110 today, died Tuesday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ramona Ybarra, 865 Watkins Street, Alvarado.

According to Mrs. Ybarra, her father was born at El Paso Guare, Mexico, on September 30, 1838, and came to this country 48 years ago. He had been in poor health and confined to his bed for several years.

In addition to his daughter, Mr. Duran is survived by four grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted from the parlors of the Berge Mortuary Company, Niles, Wednesday morning, followed by a requiem mass at St. Anne's Church, Alvarado.

Burial was at Santa Clara Catholic Cemetery.

HETCHY LINE MAY AID WATER SHORTAGE HERE

Relief of the water shortage in Washington Township wells by next summer became a brighter hope this week, according to W. D. Patterson, president of the Alameda County Water District.

Possibility of using Hetch-Hetchy tunnel facilities to bring water into the gravel strata of the area was suggested last Friday by Nestor Barrett, county planning commissioner of Santa Clara County, at a meeting of the California State Chamber of Commerce in San Jose.

Mr. Patterson, E. A. Richmond and H. F. Harrold of the water district were present at the meeting.

The new plan suggested by Nestor involves the transfer of water from the Delta Mendota canal, which passes through Tracy, into the Hetch-Hetchy tunnel, to be released either down Alameda Creek from Sunol or at Irvington.

During the week, the San Francisco Water Department has been told of the plan and has assured its serious consideration. The Hetch-Hetchy tunnel is of twice the size required for present use and could carry the additional water, which is desperately needed in the gravel strata of Washington Township and Santa Clara County.

Proponents of the idea state that the water could be brought into this locality during the winter months, when San Francisco's water requirements are smaller and when there is no need in the San Joaquin Valley for Delta Mendota water.

An alternate suggestion has also been made to the San Francisco Water Department for the "loan" of next year's supply stored in the Calaveras reservoir. While the city will not relinquish its legal rights to Calaveras water, it is believed that, due to the dire circumstances faced by farmers, the water may be released to this area as a "loan."

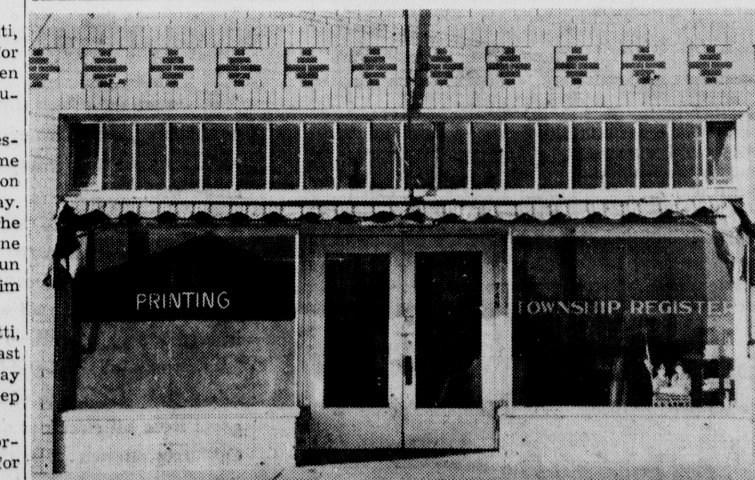

President Patterson this week stated that these possibilities are "exciting" and loom as real and immediate aid to Washington Township and Santa Clara Valley farmers.

By ELAINE HOWE

They say a woman's work is never done—I KNOW it. Two weeks' vacation and work is piled around me neck deep. The same is true of gardeners. It would be so nice to plant seeds and then let nature attend to growth until they are ready to pick. That's the way I'd work it out myself. But to refute my dreams of such impossible nature, the gardener sweats and slaves with breaking back, and sees results slowly—if at all.

This may be a good time to look back and see where—if any—were the errors, and perhaps study some new books especially written for west coast gardening.

Norvell Gillespie has a regular broadcasting spot on a San Francisco station. You may have listened to him or read his column in the Chronicle. He has just written "Pacific Coast Gardening Guide." As you can imagine, it deals with problems directly concerned with gardening in California. He shows how the Pacific Coast idea of year-round blooming can be applied to your own garden. The book is informal and practical, and encourages the gardener to put his own original ideas into practice.

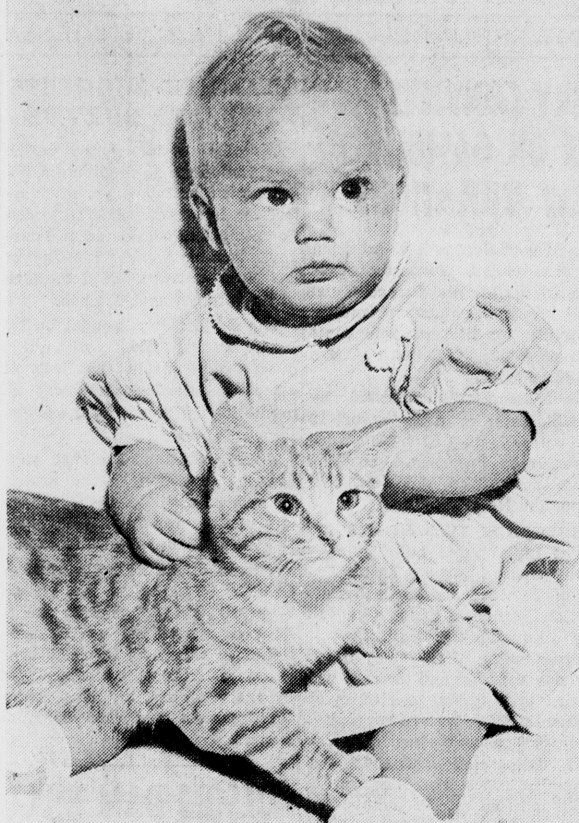

Another California gardening hot shot is Albert Wilson. He, too, tells all about making things grow on KNBC, and has had a regular Sunday morning program for some years. His book, compiled from his radio talks, is "How Does Your Garden Grow?" Starting off with a bang on January 1 with pruning roses, he directs the gardener through the year. Many of your specialties are discussed—African violet, fuchsia, sweet pea, the spring bulbs—narcissus, iris, tulip, as well as other flowering trees, shrubs and vines.

Speaking of roses, we have a beautiful new book on the queen of the garden, "Roses for Every Garden," by R. C. Allen. It was honored as the first selection of the National Council of State Garden Clubs. For my money that makes it official.

A word to the small fry. Story Hour will recommence on Saturday, October 1, at 11 a.m. I hope all my loyal audience from last spring will be back, and shall welcome any other children who like to hear tales of dragons and fairy princesses, animals both real and fanciful, and other boys and girls like themselves.

The first American packer was William Pynchon, who fed and slaughtered cattle about 1665 near Springfield, Mass.

LINDA CHAMPION

—Stinhilver Photo

Ten months old Linda Kathleen Champion, whose mother was a British war bride, has no trace of an English accent. That is not so strange, however, for her conversation has been limited thus far to "da-da," and da-da is undoubtedly pronounced the same in any language.

Linda does show signs, however, of growing up with her share of the beauty that English women are famous for. She has the most unusual combination of blond hair and brown eyes, that will undoubtedly have the swains falling at her feet in another fifteen years or so.

When Linda was born she had brown hair and blue eyes, which indicates that she is an unpredictable lass.

Her favorite companion and best pal is her kitten. If it hadn't been for the kitten, in fact, there wouldn't have been any photograph of her in the paper today; for Linda was objecting—strenuously—until kitty came along and then everything was peaceful.

Linda's paternal grandmother is Mrs. Joseph Champion of Niles. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Champion, also of Niles. Her maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Matthews of Newmarket, England, who, it is to be assumed, would be very happy indeed to see in person their first and only little grandchild.

These new cleaners, called detergents, actually make water "wetter" . . . attract dirt and grease almost like a magnet. They make dishes sparkle, work well with all fabrics in hard or soft water, clean cars, and they have many other home and industrial uses.

ALVISO SCHOOL NEWS

The Alviso Mothers Club held its installation of officers on Wednesday, Sept. 21. Officers installed were: Mrs. Mary Bettencourt, president; Mrs. Eleanor Azevedo, vice-president; Mrs. Jeanne Bettencourt, secretary; Mrs. Lee Silva, treasurer. Mrs. Lydia Orsetti was appointed chairman of a committee which will confer with the trustees at their next meeting where the question of the school lunch prices will be discussed. The question which has been in the minds of the parents for some time now has been decided upon, that is the school bus will definitely operate the full school term. In order to keep the bus running the trustees had to cut the cafeteria budget and therefore had to raise the lunch price to 25c.

The Mothers Club is appropriating $300 toward the cafeteria budget in the hope it will help some.

At this meeting Mrs. Mildred Logan was appointed district chairman of the Community Chest. Helping her to canvass the district will be Mrs. Emory and Mrs. Asta Pedersen.

In the presence of a large crowd of friends and relatives, Cecelia A. (Tillie) Janeiro became the bride last Sunday of Leonard Dondero at a two o'clock ceremony performed at Corpus Christi Church by the Rev. Timothy Hennessy.

Escorted down the aisle by her brother, Charles S. Janeiro of Olympia, Washington, the attractive brunette bride was gown in simple white satin, fashioned with a long bodice, high neckline, and tapered wrist-length sleeves. Her finger-tip veil was held in place by a sweetheart crown. She carried a prayer book with orchid streamers as a marker.

The bride's attendants, Mrs. Ernie Borges of Manteca and Mary Janeiro were dressed alike in honey-colored satin gowns, styled with tight bodice and full skirts. Baby chrysanthemums composed their hair bands and their bouquets.

Mr. Ernie Borges performed best man duties and others in the wedding party were little Kathleen Enos, flower girl, and Dino Cecarrelli, Ralph Farnham and Edward M. Enos (of Hayward).

What the Kraftile Company has done in holding costs down, improving quality and raising wages presents a practical example of the American formula right in our midst.

Fall, fall, beautiful fall . . . autumn leaves . . . football . . . and the planting season.

Yes, indeed, fall is the time to plant. Everybody gardens during this time of year. That is, everybody but us.

For example: Last spring I said to the editor (who is also my husband), "Look at this nice, bright spring, day. Just the time to get the lawn started."

He kicked a clod of earth experimentally, and shook his head. "M-m-m-m," he opined, "it's too wet yet. We'll have to wait 'till it dries out a bit."

I tried again during the summer. "I know summer isn't the best planting time," I said, "but the ground has dried out enough now. We could work it up for a lawn."

He goes out and gives another nudge to the soil. "H-m," he says sadly, shaking his head, "it's too dry. Guess we'll have to wait for the fall rains."

I decide right then and there that we won't wait for the fall rains, so I water it with the garden hose.

Then one day the ground looks nice and moist again. "Look, dear, isn't that lovely? It's just right now to get the lawn started, isn't it?" I asked encouragingly.

He looked at me with horror. "Look, my sweet (he didn't really call me "my sweet" but it looks nice in print, don't you think?) any gardener, any true lover of nature, would know that you can't plant a lawn until you've sprouted the weeds. Why, this ground is just plumb full of weed seeds!"

So I water and water, and the weeds grow like mad.

Then one day when I'm sure that every weed that isn't ashamed to show itself has sprouted out of the ground, I go and say to him triumphantly, "There! Look at those weeds! Did you ever see such a beautiful crop of weeds? Now all you have to do is to get the shovel and turn them under, then pretty soon we can start planting the lawn."

He looks doubtfully at the weed-patch. "Yeah, the weeds are up all right," he admits reluctantly, "But," he adds, brightening, while he kicks the earth, "you've watered so much that the ground is too soaked. Guess I won't be able to turn it over for another two or three weeks."

I've decided there is something wrong with our piece of land.

TRY IT!

For the first time since I've been in Niles, I went inside the building formerly known as "The Garden of Allah," now known as "Rollerhaven"—the place where the young (and some not so young) have a lot of fun skating.

If you haven't been to a skating

Also congratulations to Mrs. Elizabeth Sloan on her 79th birthday which she celebrated with her friend, Mrs. Giles, who gave a party in her honor at the Giles residence.

HER TENTH

Little Miss Lola Lofton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Lofton, was 10 years old on September 25, so on Tuesday afternoon, the 27th, her sister, Miss Iras Lofton, and Miss Cecelia Schneider acted as hostesses at a party at the family home here. Each guest present was given a little prize of one kind or another and following games and the opening of gifts, refreshments of jello and whipped cream, cake and kool-ade were served. Each child had a place card of a basket of candies to enjoy with their luncheon. Those present were Nadine and Andy Millard, Brenda Tate, Gary Phillips and brother Stanley, Marven Lofton and the two hostesses and guest of honor, Lola.

THE LEVI SET

The guys and gals of the Mission Youth Center certainly went to town on Friday evening at the I.D.E.S. Hall where they had a "Levi and Khaki" party. In the early evening they entertained themselves with games and ping-pong and later several lively games were played, followed by dancing till midnight. Light refreshments of cookies and punch were served during the evening. Jake and Dot Koelsch and Glenn and Lois Bottenberg chaperoned the group of 34. The next business meeting will be on Thursday, Oct. 6, at 7 p.m., with the new president, Elmo "Cappy" Cunha conducting. There will be a Halloween party sometime the latter part of the month for the group and their friends.

SUNDAY MOTOR TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Thompson and son Thompy motored to Vallejo on Sunday to get his mother, Mrs. Willa Thompson, who is on her way home to Tajunga, Calif. She spent several days at the ranch with Larry and Florence and grandson Thompy, before her return home on Wednesday. She had been on an extended trip to Texas and way points.

A WONDERFUL FEED

What wonderful barbecued chicken those three chefs, Frank Vargas, Tom Cunha and Joe Souza, did put out at the annual get-together of the firemen and their families last Saturday evening at the I.D.E.S. Hall. It simply melted in your mouth and along with corn on the cob, salad, french bread, tomatoes, celery and drinks, it was a feed fit for a king. There were over 60 present including part of the commissioners.

POSTMASTERS MEET

The Alameda County Postmasters Association met on Wednesday

day evening at the Hotel Claremont in Oakland with host newly appointed Postmaster Luther Dunlap of Berkeley doing the honors. There were a few who were still away on vacation but a nice crowd was nevertheless present. Harold F. Gray, engineer in charge of Alameda County Mosquito Abatement District, gave a very interesting talk on the work being done to rid the southern part of Alameda County especially of the pests. A short business meeting was held following the talk and after the meeting adjourned the guests enjoyed dancing to the music of Paul Neighbors, who is appearing nightly at the Claremont.

Mr. and Mrs. Santos and daughter, Mary Louise of San Jose spent a few hours Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bottenberg in the Mission.

The Decoto Elementary School's football team, undefeated in five consecutive seasons of play, opened its 1949 season yesterday against Bret Harte.

Coaches John Kane and Jack Lee have two teams this season, one using the T-formation and the other the single-wing. The T-formation team is the starting eleven and the single-wing the shock troop.

The T-team includes: Captain Raul Orozco, Clarence Souza, Raymond Orozco, Marcelino Campa, Ralph Martinez, Andy Flores, Johnny Arenaz and Martin Lozano. The wing-team includes: Ernie Delgado, Vincente Limon, Tony Sanchez, Arthur Aguilar, Joe Martinez, Eddie Fletcher, Sammie Ramirez and Freddie Sanchez.

In a pre-season scrimmage Monday the T-team won over the single wing by a score of 24 to 0. The passing combination of Raul Orozco to Clarence Souza and Ralph Martinez and the running of Johnny Arenaz accounted for the T-team pointers.
